PLEDGE TO THE FLAG

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands. One Nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

HERBERT W. WOLFF

The people of Grayling know Herbert W. Wolff in, perhaps, a different way from those of his business associates—an executive of one of America's great industrial institutions, his business contacts were with men of other large businesses. His keen business instincts carried him from office boy to the most responsible position to be had with the American Car & Foundry Co. As the senior vice president, this company has grown and prospered under his management. His genius and ability are recognized by other great leaders of America and of foreign lands.

Here in Grayling we know him as a neighbor—as one of us, taking part in our community affairs and with many personal friendships and companionships.
His life among us was one of friendly dignity. He was always a gentleman and always holding in friendly esteem those with whom he came into contact. His friends meant much to him, just as he did to those who knew him best.

For about a quarter of a century Mr. and Mrs. Wolff and son Herbert and daughter Marjorie resided with us during the summer seasons. Mr. Wolff passed away Saturday evening, amidst the surroundings that he knew and loved so well—the north country, nature, Grayling, the streams, the lakes, the wild woods, invigorating climate, the hunting, fishing, golfing and good friendships. He loved it here and each season looked forward more and more to getting here.

No blanket of roses covered his bier. Instead there was a profusion of boughs of pines, balsams, birches, studded with orchids, typifying his love for nature and the esthetic—just as he himself would have wanted it.
All these came from the Wolff Farm on the AuSable where he and his family went often and spent many happy hours.

Everyone from men of big affairs to office boys, loved Mr.
Wolff and the vacant chair in his office in New York City will be a reminder to them of the many strenuous but happy hours he spent there. And those ever cheerful smiles that he had for everyone while he was among us in Grayling will remain with us cherished memories.

FIFTEEN YEARS IN BUSINESS

The people of Grayling have learned to hold Alfred Hanson in high esteem. He not only is conducting a high type one-stop automobile service station and sales agency in Grayling, but also he has proven himself one of our most substantial business men. He has been keen in business, but he has always had time to do those other things for his community that have meant much toward our city progress.

In his plant nine married men are employed, each receiving substantial wages, while working in pleasant surroundings. This is a happy and contented family of employees, all loyal and pulling together for their employer, who in turn was faithful to those under his employ. It's a grand combination that could only exist under such ownership.

We know Mr. Hanson's friends will join us in wishing him many more years of business success and splendid citizenship.

A front page article gives a brief account of his years in business.

Grayling Plays At Mackinac Isle, Sunday

LOSES TO MACKINAW
CITY, 10 TO 4

Sunday the Grayling Merchants journey to Mackinac Island to cross bats with the Islanders.
The Grayling team has lost two games to the Islanders in previous years losing a 13-inning battle in 1938 and last year Grayling was held to one hit by Smith, Island pitcher and former minor league pitcher.

Last Sunday at the home field the Mackinaw City Indians made two straight victories over the local nine in a Northern Michigan League game, 10-4. Mackinaw City started the game by scoring three runs on three singles, a base on balls and an error by center-fielder Keith Bowen in the opening inning but Grayling came back to tie the count in their half. After Ken G. threw first on an error by the first baseman and Edwin Chalker was hit by a pitched ball. Keith Bowen doubled down the left field lead line scoring Deckrow, and Dewey Courts singled over second to drive home Chalker and Bowen. Lewis Smith walked but George Hanson struck out and Rudy Harrison grounded to short to end the inning.

Mackinaw City broke the tie in the second inning when the first man up singled, stole second, and scored on Pitcher Grondin's double. They added another run to their lead in the third on a walk, a stolen base, an infield putout, and a fly ball to deep center field. Grayling threatened to tally in the third inning when Bowen led off with a single and Courts beat out a bunt but Smith grounded out a double play and G. Hanson struck out.

The visitors increased their lead in the eighth on errors by "Short" Anthony, Deckrow, and Pat Kolka and single and a double for four runs. In the last of the eighth Chalker singled to center field and Bowen was safe on an error by the third baseman Chalker scored Grayling's last run when Catcher Sommers threw into center field trying to pick him off second. Pitcher
"Chief" Grondin then struck out Courts, Kolka, and Clayton Anthony, batting for G. Hanson, to retire the side. The visitors scored their last run in the ninth on a single, a wild pitch, and two infield put-outs.

Keith Bowen with a double and a single in four times at bat, driving in a run and Manager Dewey Courts with two singles in four times at bat, batting in four times at bat, were the winner's hitting with three for four apiece. Grondin, the winning hurler, racked up seventeen strikeouts, and allowed only six hits. Elmer Kellogg, pitching the outs for Grayling, allowed ten hits at a struck out six while using three base on balls.

HIT BY TWO WARS

This picture might serve as an editorial in itself. It was made by a news-of-the-day newspaper photographer in the heart of France's war zone. The veteran you see here lost him, he is a victim of this war as

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF THE 28TH SENATORIAL DISTRICT

I take this opportunity to formally announce that I am a candidate for nomination in the primary to be held on September 10.
I have filed my petitions with the Secretary of State and they have been accepted by him.
I also take this opportunity to thank the men and women who so willingly circulated my petitions and also thank the large number of voters who signed these petitions so generously, nearly 2,000 altogether.

When I was elected to this high office of state senator I interpreted the wishes of the people of the district to mean that they wanted decency and honesty in government, enforcement of the law, protecting of our natural resources and to secure for the communities of which the district is made up a fair share of the activities of the different departments of the state of Michigan. I have tried to carry out the wishes of my constituents and in such a way that no voter who placed his confidence in me would be ashamed of any action of mine.
I hope that I have so conducted myself that I still have your confidence and will have your support in the primaries in September. For which support I will be profoundly grateful.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

Thursday, August 2, 1917

Frank Tetu is driving a new Ford auto.

Clarence Johnson of the Bay City Ambulance Co. is enjoying a short furlough here this week.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Game Tuesday of this week.

Gerald Powell has given up show business and is now with the Detroit Evening News. He will be married September 2nd and will come to Grayling for his honeymoon and stay at the Powell cottage at Portage Lake.

Ford Agent Geo. Burke is having a siege of typhoid fever. He is at his home in Frederic.

Miss Isabella Case was the guest of her brother and wife at Mancelona Sunday.

M. A. Bates received a telegram Monday which stated that his appointment on the local draft board for Crawford county had been confirmed by the president. The board now consists of Dr. S. N. Insley, Sheriff Wm. H. Cody, and M. A. Bates.

Mrs. Arthur Brentford of Cheboygan age 22 years, passed away at Mercy hospital in this city Wednesday of last week, where she had been brought two weeks previous for treatment. Her husband, and two young sons are left to mourn her, the youngest but five weeks old. The deceased was a sister of Mrs. Jos. Boulanger of this city. Funeral services were held in Cheboygan Saturday, and burial was in the Cheboygan cemetery.

A son, Norman Dwight was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, July 18, at Benton Harbor. The young couple were former residents of Grayling.

Richard Lovely is the new clerk at Simpson's Grocery.

One of the workmen at the DuPont plant found a switch open on the main track of the Michigan Central near that plant early Sunday morning. It was corrected just in time to allow a troop train from the south to pass. It is believed that the switch had been opened hoping to wreck the troop train which was bound for the copper country.

Word has just been received that Don Butler, a former Grayling boy, but now of Jackson, was killed in an auto accident Wednesday. He was the son of Chas. Butler and recently made a visit here.

South-bound Michigan Central train number 206, was wrecked a few rods north of the Dowell factory Tuesday, when a brake beam on the baggage car dropped down and derailed all the coaches. The train was running at full speed at the time the accident occurred, and the fact that no casualties are to be reported is believed to be due to the steel coaches, and because of a line of box cars on the track toward which the coaches tipped.

The sad news has just reached the Avalanche office of the death of Frank Pond. Mr. Pond gave up his work at the baggage room of the Michigan Central several weeks ago because of ill health and since that time had become weaker every day. He was 32 years of age, and a member of the Woodman and Forester Lodges. He is survived by his wife, one son and one daughter.

The William McCullough blacksmith shop on Cedar street has changed hands. John Schram and Tony Nelson are the new proprietors. Mr. Schram has worked at blacksmithing for 21 years and is a reliable workman.

The death of Mrs. Anna Maria Larson last Sunday caused much grief to her family and hosts of friends. Altho ailing and at many times very ill since last January her friends entertained hopes for her recovery. After an operation in Augustana hospital in Chicago in June she was brought here to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Tillie Sparks to recuperate, and where she expected to make her home during her remaining years. She had resided in Grayling for seventeen years after the death of her husband in 1878, coming from Galesburg, Illinois. In 1909 she returned to that city and had made her home there since. The funeral was held Wednesday from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sparks. She leaves to mourn her passing two daughters and two sons.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bradley of Royal Oak, July 31. Mrs. Bradley is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Tromble.

Ralph O. Brink, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brink of Granite Falls, Wash., is now in the army and located at Quantico, Va.

TEST PLANTING HARDWOOD ON PINE BARRENS

Whether hardwoods will thrive where pines once flourished, on the sandy Kingston plains now barren after lumbering and forest fires, is being tested in a 212-acre planting of 92,000 trees set out by CCC enrollees in Cusino game area near Shingleton.

Three non-native species—hickory, black walnut and white oak—are getting a trial introduction to the region. Other varieties planted are wild plum, wild crabapple, box elder, mountain ash, red oak, sumac, chokecherry, winterberry, and moose maple.

These trees and shrubs furnish game cover and produce fruits and seeds eaten by prairie chickens and sharpshins, and so may influence game population favorably.

The young trees are spaced at 10-foot intervals, and planted in plots of from three to 20 acres.

Current Wit and Humor

BEST MAN WINS

Betty was hesitating between two young men and at last it struck her that she might get some help from her father.

"Which do you think I should take, daddy?" she asked. "Joe is awfully handsome, but Sam is a nice steady chap."

Father did not hesitate. "My dear," he replied, "if you want a good husband, take Sam. He really loves you."

Betty looked interested. "How do you know?" she asked. Father smiled.

"I've been borrowing money from him for the last six months," he said, "and he still comes to see you twice a week."

Not Without Honor

Somebody once remarked to Grimm that his children must be the happiest in the world since they lived in the midst of fairy tales.

Grimm replied by telling how one day his son was told by a friend that his father had written the famous fairy stories.

The boy would not believe it, and ran to his father saying, "They say you wrote those fairy stories; surely you never invented such silly rubbish?"

CONSIDERATION

He—Have you ever considered getting married?
She—No. I've been married three times but I never stopped to consider it.

Fresh From the City

A couple of tourists called at a Maine farm house on an early morning recently. "We were wondering," spoke up the lady, "if we could get a glass of fresh milk?"

"Now, that's too bad," sympathized the housewife, "but you see we live quite a way from the city, and the milkman hasn't got here yet!"

Knows How

Bandit—Now then, put 'em up quick!
Postmistress (a keen student of American gangster thrillers)—Now that's entirely wrong to start with. You should say "stick 'em up, baby, and make it snappy!"

Wrong Weight

Farmer—You say you have been around everywhere and you can't find a thing to do?
Samba—Yes, suh, Boss; dat's right. I'm jes' too heavy fer light work an' jes' too light for heavy work.

Old Masters

Mrs. Pumpkinseed (to new maid)—Be careful when you dust these pictures, Mandy; they're old masters.

Mandy—Gracious, ma'am! Who'd ever thought you'd been married all them times.

TOUCHING SERMON

"He preached a very touching sermon then?"
"He did that! You should have seen the collection they took up."

Thorough

A cockney, entering a tavern during the "blackout," saw in a dimmed corner a coalman with the marks of his calling still on his face. "Blimey," said the cockney, "that's what I calls overdoing it."

Answering to It!

"What's the idea of calling your dog 'Swindler'?"
"Oh, just fun. When I call him in the street, half the men almost jump out of their skins."

Chip Off the Old Block

Dad—I wonder where the step-mother—Tommy had it a little while ago.

Dad—Oh, then it must be in the preserve pantry!

Wildlife

Fish from the Great Lakes contribute largely to the preferred fish trade, having in 1938 an average value per pound more than three times that of the average for the entire country, according to Federal Fish and Wildlife service reports.

Deer hunters killed a (computed) total of 49,148 deer and 628 bears in Michigan in the last hunting season slightly more than the 1938 tally of 44,809 deer and 598 bears.

According to professional guides of the north who have accompanied tourists on both camera and hunting trips, it is much more difficult to secure a good picture of game in its native wilderness than to kill it with a high powered rifle.

The snowshoe hare, once plentiful in southern Michigan, now has left the region but is common in the swamps and forests of northern Michigan where farms are scarce.

In Michigan, at the end of the breeding season, the stock of cottontail rabbits may be 10 times as numerous as the stock which survived the winter.

Three or four litters a season among Michigan's cottontails are common, with four to seven young in each litter. Maximum number of young that females can produce, consistently, in a season, is estimated at 25.

Reconnaissance in the vast marshlands of Alaska indicate their value in contributing to the continental supply of waterfowl has not been fully appreciated.

In 1940, it is estimated by the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service, there are some 65,000,000 migratory birds in North America.

FEW CENTS EXTRA FOR TIGHT WINDOW FRAMES IS GOOD INVESTMENT

LEAKY JOINT

This is the kind of inefficient window frame construction that is usually found in many new homes. It results in drafts, loss of heat, and a waste of money. A window frame with a tight joint is a good investment.

TIGHT JOINT

Contractors call this wide blind-stop construction. It cuts or leaks more than half a pound of heat around a window frame. Costs just a few cents extra per window. Arrow points to wide blind-stop.

Down to earth, important fact: A window frame with a tight joint is a good investment. It costs just a few cents extra per window. Arrow points to wide blind-stop.

was lost to other state executives and profuse widely at the memorial. Vandenberg can speak!

One of Vandenberg's qualities of leadership for others. This trait, combined with his courage, has made him an outstanding figure at Washington.

None will accuse him of compromising issues with President Roosevelt, for when the senator spoke at Indianapolis in 1936 presidential campaign, he said that he and Van denberg were such good friends that the Republicans had nothing to say to the Grand Rapids senator. Vandenberg could have been the country from the platform.

His prestige of oratory has been a valuable asset in the past to the voters' good graces. Vandenberg has been a tendency to be a Vandenberg at Washington, and an asset to Michigan. He is a state credit.

Expert at Compromise
Cleverly a genius at the art of making workable compromises. Vandenberg is also respected for his opposing opposition to the interests which he deems inimical to the public good.

He led the fight for the Postmaster's pay raise. He blocked the Florida ship bill. He assisted the multi-million dollar fund created by the Social Security Act. He was the author of the amendment to the banking act which provided insurance for bank deposits.

In foreign affairs he has been a staunch maintainer that America entered the World War because Wall Street wanted to go to war.

What Michigan will do to his credit for the voters to decide next fall. In any event, Vandenberg will give the campaign a boost of prestige which the state committee openly welcomes. He is a national figure.

SUMMER FOOD POISONING

Adults and children frequently have gastro-intestinal upsets with diarrhea during the summer months caused by the poisoning from food in which bacteria has been permitted to grow. A recent United States Navy bulletin contains eleven rules for the prevention of such food poisoning. These should be learned thoroughly by every picnicer and housewife, and should be scrupulously adhered to by restaurant managers. These epidemics of food poisoning are extremely common, and unless considerable care is taken sometimes serious intestinal disease results.

1. It must be presumed that all food is contaminated with bacteria, and their growth to a dangerous degree can be prevented either by continued cooking, or by placing in a refrigerator immediately following the cooking.
2. Contaminated foods usually are not changed in appearance, taste or odor.
3. Frozen foods should be thawed in a refrigerator whenever possible.
4. To insure quick cooling, warm foods, ground or cut up, should be refrigerated in shallow pans, otherwise the warmth in the center of the mass will act as a media for bacterial growth.
5. If boiled ham is to be served it should be cooked, sliced and served while hot. If cold ham is to be served, it should be refrigerated immediately after boiling or baking and sliced just before serving.

6. Hash should not be served if the ingredients are prepared the night before or even several hours before it is to be cooked and served.

7. Any food having a high protein content, if improperly handled may result in food poisoning. Among this group are: cooked or processed meats, meat products, gravies, fish, shell fish, spaghetti, macaroni, custard and puddings.

8. Fresh fruits and vegetables should be thoroughly washed before using.

9. Kitchens should be kept free of insects, rodents and dust. All foods should be covered, whenever possible, to prevent contamination.

10. Utensils should be kept scrupulously clean.

11. Food handlers should thoroughly wash hands and arms after each visit to the toilet. Infections of fingers or hands frequently result in contaminated food products with subsequent outbreaks of food poisoning.

Dogs Seldom Live to

The Age of 20 Years

The question as to how old dogs get comes up frequently. Some dogs live longer than the average and a few breeds are noted for their longevity.

In general, while dogs have been reported as living into their 20s, such cases are decidedly unusual. The average dog does well if he lives to be 12 to 15 years old.

The method for figuring a dog's age is to check the period of growth. A dog's growth continued until he is about seven to get the age the dog would attain. Such a procedure is not necessarily accurate because many outside factors such as diet will have their effect upon the life of a dog.

A dog is actually approaching old age when he gets to be 10 years old and his exercise and his food should be regulated in accordance with his age.

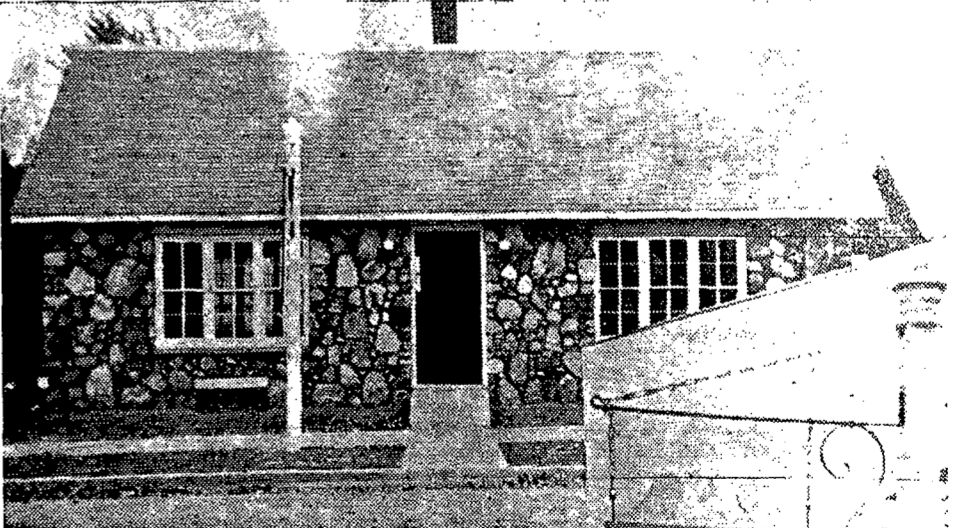

Some dogs retain all of their vigor up to almost the end of their lives, but there are others who slow down perceptibly and who grow deaf, lame and generally less physically able.

Care in feeding the right amounts of the correct foods will do the most to keep a dog so that he goes beyond the average age. A fat dog is one out of condition, and a dog out of condition is more likely to pick up the various diseases which may strike him low.

Next to feeding and probably of equal importance is the proper amount of regular exercise. In fact regularity of all habits will help to give a dog long life. Regular times of exercise and regular lengths of exercise should be the course for any dog, if he is to be healthy.

Little dogs should be cared for at once lest they grow and sap the dog's strength. The dog's teeth should be watched for decay and bad teeth should be extracted.

THE HOUSE THAT YOUTH BUILT

Citizens of Kalkaska, Mich., point with pride to their newest up-to-the-minute civic structure recently completed by youth workers of the Michigan National Youth Administration. Made of stone veneer, the building has a nine foot basement and measures 24' x 36'. It serves as a community building, houses the Chamber of Commerce, a library, and public rest rooms. From 24 to 30 youth a month working part time on the NYA program completed the building in less than six months. The Village Council, co-sponsor of the project, provided the building materials, and a mason, plumber, and carpenter who supervised the work.

Bumping Along ON ROCK BOTTOM

..... is over

The building market—materials and labor—is extremely sensitive. The slightest increased demand is instantly reflected in increased prices for both commodities.

The present price level of building materials is favorable to only one set of interests—builders of new buildings and repairers of old structures.

Accumulated demand is bound, within the next few months, to increase prices and eliminate a building opportunity which only comes once or twice in a decade.

The builder of a home, barn, a chicken coop or a garage whose investment is made at the present record-breaking low levels is going to find himself in possession of a mighty attractive investment because the building industry is about through bumping along on rock bottom.

There could anything is in a buyer's market.

And we hope it will be so in Grayling.
